DID YOU KNOW

Roughly one-third of the global workforce makes up the agriculture industry, making it the largest industry in the world. This includes everyone from farmers and ranchers to food scientists, agricultural engineers, and even marketers who work in the agricultural sector. It's also estimated that nearly half the world's habitable land is used for farming. March 21—27 is Agriculture week, let's celebrate and appreciate all the hard work that goes into this industry!
